Modernistic Club News Bulletin

The weather was inclement Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship hour but that did not stop an appreciative audience from turning out for the services at Gallilee Baptist Church. There were a number of visitors who came out for regular service. Pastor Lawing preached an impressive sermon. His theme was "From Darkness to Light." Those who heard the word or the message, were greatly benefited.

The message were greatly benefited.

The morning offering was very liberal. Brother George Stevens, was the leader for the Red Cross Drive again this year and he reported to the regular offering, thirty-one dollars for the Red Cross Drive ($31.00). Mr. Stevens wishes to thank the members and friends for keeping to make the drive a success.

The "Cancer Fund Drive," will come to a close in April at Galilee Baptist Church. Miss H. B. Stevens will be leader for this drive. She is asking all of the members and friends to give until you feel it this month for the Cancer Drive, "The Life you save may be your very own."

We again remind the Galilee Baptist Woman's Club," to meet at 6:30 p.m. for a short business hour Tuesday, April 10, at the Stevens home.

Mrs. Theodore Lewis who spent the winter in her native home, in Baltimore, Md. has returned to her home in the Springfield neighborhood where she will spend the summer. We were happy to have had Mrs. Lewis come home again; she was very much missed this winter, which has just passed.

In and out of town over the week end:

Mesdames Carese Jones, Flossie Jones, Jessie Collins, and Mr. James Foster, all of Baltimore, Md. These relatives and friends accompanied Mrs. Theodore Lewis home over the week end. While in Appomattox, Va., they also paid a short visit to the George Stevens and sisters, and also, paid a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stevens. The Stevens really enjoyed the short visit made by their friends.

The friends also visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hamlett,while in "Historic Appomattox".

See you next week!!!

P. S. Miss Vivian Ferguson spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ferguson.

Quiet people usually know more than their loudmouth brethren but many misjudge volume for knowledge.

Measurement of Farm Program Acreage Available

Producers who have enrolled for the 1973 wheat, feed grain and cotton programs still have time to request and get measurement and inspection services before the final certification date, June 30, 1973, chairman James R. Ford, Jr., of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) County Committee, said.

"Measurement and inspection services are provided at a nominal charge which covers the cost to ASCS as a service to farmers to help them assure compliance with the farm programs they participate in," Mr. Ford said.

Trained ASCS personnel measure, stake, and reference the acreage a producer is designating as set-aside and the cropland acreages the producer wants measured so that a farmer knows when he certifies that his certification is correct.

"Even if an error were to be made in th. land measurement, a producer who followed the area staked when the land was measured is guaranteed he will be considered in compliance with program acreage requirements," the Chairman said.

The same is true for quality of set-aside land. If the set-aside land is inspected ahead of certification and accepted for eligibility and productivity, the producer is guaranteed he has complied with set-aside quality requirements.

The ASC committee chairman pointed out that only a few weeks remain before the final certification date and urged farmers to make their measurement requests as soon as possible.

Little Girl

Little girl, if you are old enough to take The Pill, if you know what life's all about, then it's time for you to start having a Pap test regularly for cancer of the uterine cervix. It's the best way to safeguard against this form of cancer, says the American Cancer Society.

The Pastor Speaks

"Favorite Four-Letter Words"

Four letter words are in fashion today in our world. More and more, four letter obscenities are seen in literature, stage plays, and motion pictures, even in certain television programs. There are better ways to use four-letter words. The idea came from a pharmacist George Scharringhausen, who, after some months of inner struggle and tension, began working on four letter words which give him a healthy mental attitude all day long. Of course, Jesus used these words, and the Bible often speaks to us, using what might be called four-letter words which count: the word this week is LIFE.

There is LIFE in Jesus Christ our Lord, and in the power of His presence daily in our lives. He once said "I am the way and the truth, and the life . . ." (John 14:6.) There is no Hebrew or Greek word "religion." In the Old Testament a suitable word for religion would be "the fear of the Lord." (Deuteronomy 6:13.) In the New Testament, the word religion is never used. Apparently Jesus used the word LIFE to connote what we mean by our best understanding of religion. The author of the Fourth Gospel says that "these things are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ (that is to say, the Messiah of Old Testament promise), the Son of God, and that believing you may have LIFE in His name." (John 20:31) Christ refers to Himself as the Bread of Life (John 6:48,) and The Resurrection and the Life, (John 11:25). The LIFE we can experience in vital religion is the abundant life, the rich, full LIFE which Jesus Christ comes to bring. Following Jesus' life, death, and resurrection from the dead, the Father and the Son sent the Holy Spirit into the world at Pentecost, so that the love and power which Jesus Christ revealed could be universal beyond the space-time limitations of Palestine to the end that you and I and forth coming generations can share in His blessings. The living presence of Jesus within our lives, when we receive Him as Saviour and Lord, is the life giving powerful and helpful presence of the blessed Holy Spirit. Finally, the Apostle Paul declared that for him to live was not religion, not to serve humanity, not even to be a Christian, but "to live is Christ." (Phillipians 1:21)

The Sunday School Lesson

HERBERT C. BRADSHAW
P. O. Box 1033

Comment on the International Sunday School lesson for April 8, 1973

Topic: Christ Suffered For Us
Scripture: Isaiah 52:13- 53:12; Matthew 26:1-5, 26-29; 1 Peter 2:21-25

He was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; upon him was the chastisement that made us whole, and with his stripes we are healed. Isaiah 53:5

The prophets of ancient Israel foresaw the promised Messiah in the strangely polarized roles of mighty king and suffering servant. Not unnaturally the popular vision concentrated on the former role, though the latter is more truly significant. One of our leading contemporary theologians, Dr. John A. Mackay, a former president of Princeton Theological Seminary, has described the "suffering servant" as the most significant symbol in the Old Testament.

This week's International Sunday School lesson emphasizes the suffering servant role as it was realized in Jesus Christ. The emphasis comes at an appropriate time, as the Christian world prepares the commemorate the death and resurrection of Jesus two weeks hence. It should help us to prepare for this most important observance of the Christian year, celebrating a unified event in which the role of Messiah as suffering servant reached its culmination and the role of Messiah as mighty king had its unique renewal.

The concept of Messiah as suffering servant, as presented in the beautiful poetry of Isaiah, the realization of this prophetic vision in the person and life of Jesus Christ are integral to the aspect of history we call "salvation history". In this act of the divine drama we see so much that reveals the nature and character of the divine purpose and that marks its consistency.

Here we see the persuasive aspect of God's search for man, to reclaim and redeem human life. Messiah came not as conquering king to force allegiance of those He would make His subjects. Messiah came as suffering servant, to minister to the needs of humanity and to suffer Himself that people might find the way to enter into the household of God, for which they were made. God forces no one to become in truth His child, but in the sublimest demonstration of love the world knows sent His Son to take upon Himself the sins of people which separate them from God and to enable people to become His children. To do this, to accomplish His mission, Christ had to suffer.

As Isaiah put it, God's servant was not wounded for His transgressions, but for ours; was bruised not because He was wicked, but because we are. He took upon Himself the punishment which restores man to wholeness, a restoration essential to man's development to his fullest potential. Man's healing is brought about by the suffering the Messiah was subjected to. What Jesus Christ did on earth. He did for man. Thus He made Himself a servant, and set the example of servanthood for all His followers. For Him servanthood went beyond ministering to the physical needs of people; it ministers to the spiritual needs of humanity in the unique ministry people need, to be redeemed from sin and to be transformed into a new creature.

God created man free, and because He did. He does not compel man's allegiance. But God yearns for His creatures to return to Him, and He seeks to persuade them to come into His household through the demonstration of love which invites the response of commitment in love.

As Isaiah had foretold His nature, the Messiah served to the extent of suffering for others. In serving He laid the foundation for true greatness, for as He himself said, "He who would be greatest among you, let him be servant of all." Thus both the life and the teaching of the Messiah as suffering servant show the distinction between man's thoughts and God's way. Through God's way, the suffering servant becomes the might king.

Rotate Tires

If you haven't rotated your tires in the last 5,000 miles, now's the time to do it. Consult your car manufacturer's manual for tire rotation recommendations. Rotation will equalize wear and increase your tires' life. After rotation, check tire air pressure, when the tires are cool. Make sure you get the proper front and rear tire pressure relationship.

If you plan to drive long distances at high speeds, increase your tire pressure - Pocited in your owner's manual - by four pounds (but not above the maximum cold inflation level.) This increased air pressure reduces tire flexing enough to make tires run cooler at high speeds.
